

Winter is near, the rain is here—homeless people need foul weather gear

Very poor people are very much in need of durable, hooded, waterproof outerwear to survive blowing rains on the streets, be it waiting for the bus, walking to work, seeking refuge in an alley or, sadly, sleeping in a doorway.

Your can help by cleaning out your closet!

Christ Our Hope is situated in Downtown Seattle, on the main floor of the former Josephinum Hotel. Established six years ago by the Archdiocese of Seattle, this new parish is founded on principles of stewardship. The 240 very low-income units upstairs are managed by Catholic Housing Services and provide housing for disabled, seniors and others (including Veterans) who were previously homeless. All are welcome.

“A little bit of mercy makes the world less cold and more just.” -Pope Francis
